Linux Home Directory Setup

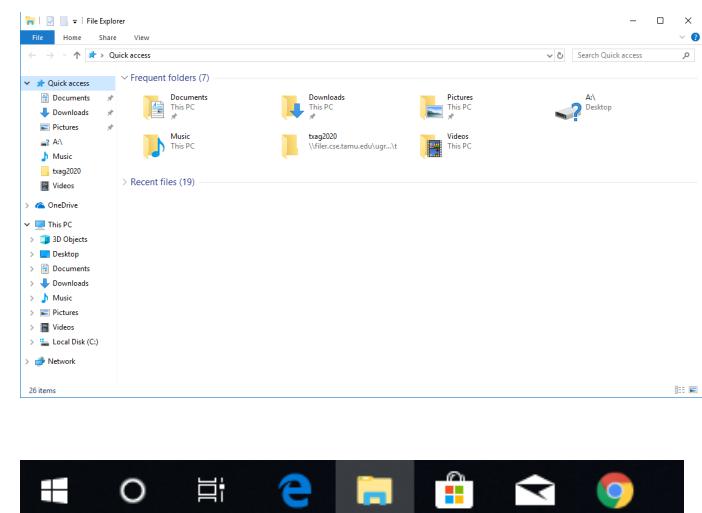

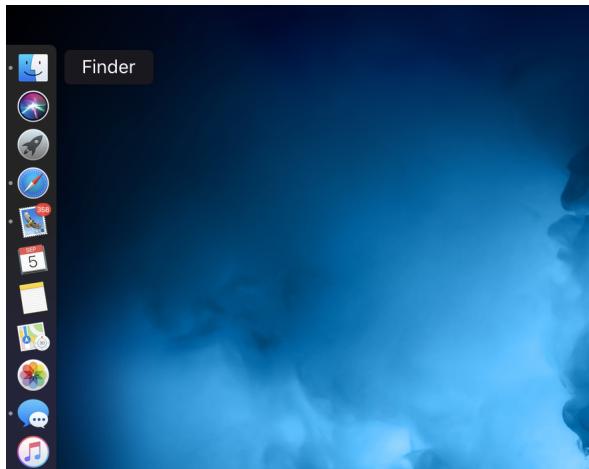

You must be on campus or connected to VPN for these directions to work!

Use personal computer or any computer other than the linux machine

Mac - Left screenshots

Windows - Right screenshots

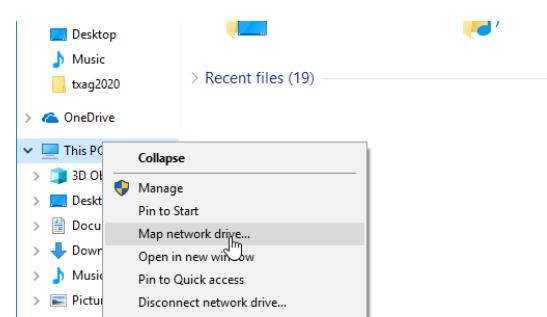

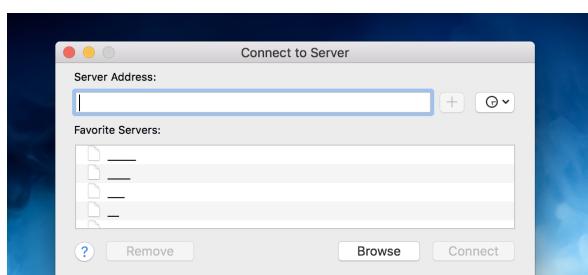

1) Open default file system (finder/file explorer) - NOT A WEB BROWSER

2) Open screen for mapping a network drive

Mac: Press Command+K

Windows: Right-click on "This PC", and select "Map network drive..."

3) type the address of the College of Engineering file share

Undergraduates:

Mac: smb://AUTH\yourNetID@coe-fs.engr.tamu.edu/Ugrads
(replace "yourNetID" with your Net ID)

Windows: \\coe-fs.engr.tamu.edu\ugrads
(select "Sign in using different credentials" if available)

Graduates:

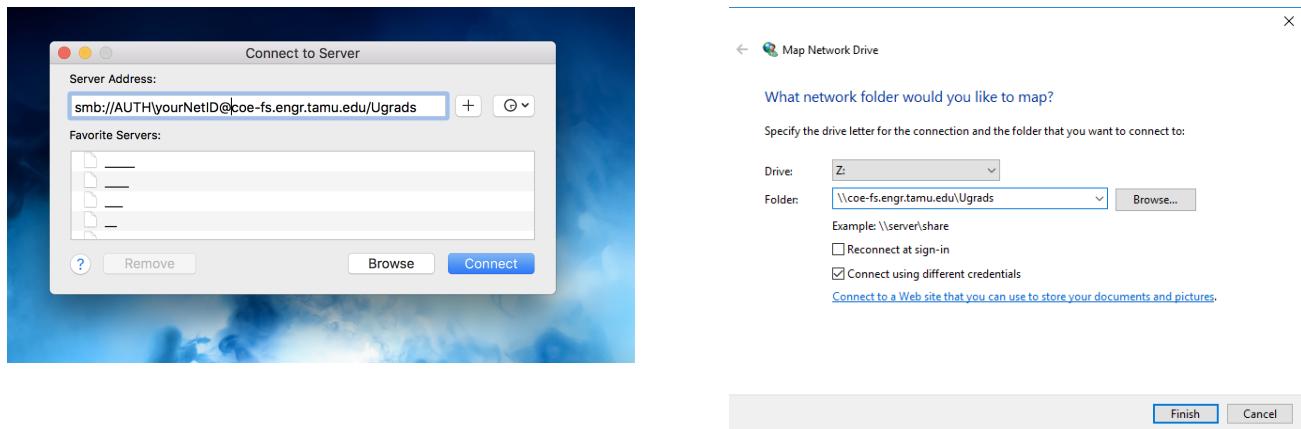

Mac: smb://AUTH\yourNetID@coe-fs.engr.tamu.edu/Grads
(replace "yourNetID" with your Net ID)

Windows: \\coe-fs.engr.tamu.edu\grads
(select "Sign in using different credentials")

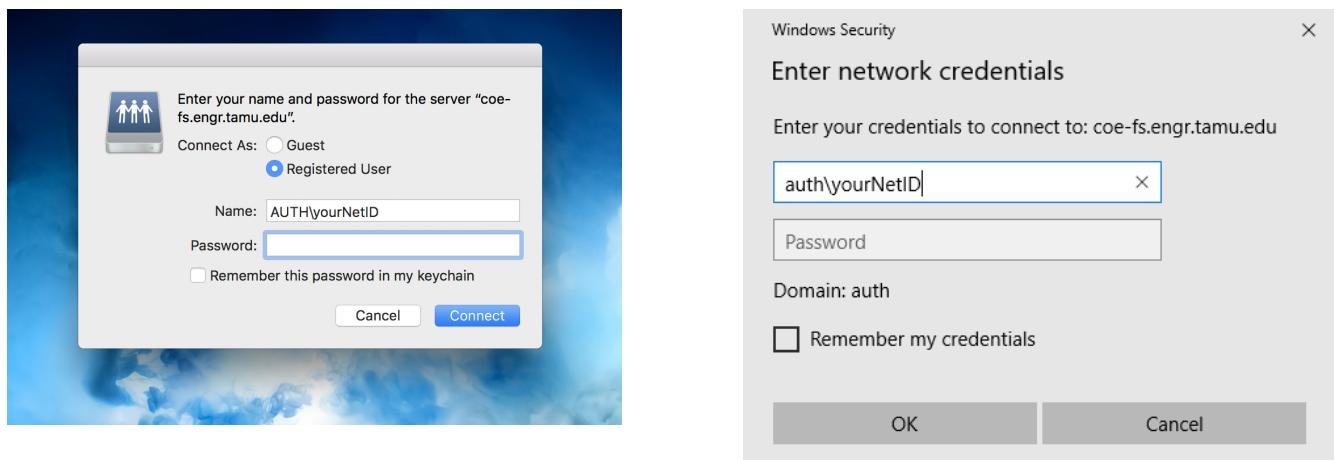

Faculty:

Mac: smb://AUTH\yourNetID@coe-fs.engr.tamu.edu/Faculty
(replace "yourNetID" with your Net ID)

Windows: \\coe-fs.engr.tamu.edu\faculty
(select "Sign in using different credentials")

4) Sign in by typing "AUTH\" then your Net ID into the username, and your tamu password.

5) If a window pops up with a folder titled with your classification, you are all set. For some it may have folders in it, for new students it will be empty. If something like the following pops up, your home-directory has been created, and you are ready to sign in on the windows machines.
